Texas Slaying Suspect Said Captured

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — More than 60 law officers surrounded an East Dallas apartment today and captured Rene Adolpho Guzman, 33, charged with murder in the execution-style slayings of three sheriff's deputies.

The arrests came after police entered what they later determined to be the wrong apartment and exchanged shots with a man and a woman. The couple was wounded and taken to Parkland Hospital, where they were listed in good condition.

Shortly thereafter police entered a nearby building and Guzman and Leonard Ramos Lopez, 24, gave up with resistance.

Guzman had been the object of a manhunt since Monday night when three county officers-two from Dallas and one from Ellis-were gunned down in the Trinity River bottoms in West Dallas.

The sheriff's deputies slain were Donnie Reese, 30, of Rockwall; Sam Infante, 32, of Irving; and A.J. Robertson, 59, of Waxahachie. Deputy Wendell Dover was wounded seriously but is expected to recover.

The officers had been captured when they went to investigate burglary at a house that police later said was occupied by Guzman and his brother Moises, 35, also charged with murder in the killings.

The slain officers, along with Deputy Sheriff A.D. McCurley and Dover, were taken by car to the spot near the river and the firing began. McCurley escaped the hail of gunfire by diving over an embankment.

Dallas County Sheriff Clarence Jones said today's arrests completed a search for all principals in the case.

Winter Back In Wide Area Of Plains

Near-Blizzard
Conditions Hit
Nebraska, Kansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter returned to the northern and central Plains with blowing and drifting snow today while springlike thundersstorms dumped soaking rains across the Midwest.

Heavy-snow warnings were out for sections of the Dakotas and Minnesota. Travel was hazardous in scattered areas from eastern Colorado to northern Wisconsin, either because of heavy or drifting snow, or freezing rain.

Near-blizzard conditions developed in west-central Nebraska, northwestern Kansas and northeastern Colorado.

Interstate 70 was closed for several miles from Burlington, Colo., to the Kansas line by drifting snow. Truckers reported many roads nearly blocked.

The storm system that generated the snows triggered tornadoes Thursday in parts of Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. No deaths were reported.

Seven persons were injured late Thursday in a twister that spun through a trailer court at Farmersville, in northeast Texas. A few minor injuries also resulted from a tornado near Lawton, Okla.

One to 2 inches of rain hit some communities in the thunderstorm belt that extended from the Southern Plains to the central Great Lakes.

The heavy rains posed the threat of flooding in scattered sections of the Midwest where still-frozen ground prevented normal runoff.

Temperatures in the 40s and 50s were common overnight from the Southern Plains to the Middle Atlantic States.

Rain fell in portions of north-central California but most other areas of the Far West were fair and pleasant. Temperatures before dawn ranged from 9 at International Falls, Minn., to 72 at Key West, Fla., and Brownsville, Tex.

Saxbe And Taft Vote To Cut Filibusters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Sens. William B. Saxbe and Robert Taft Jr., both Republicans, voted with the losing side Thursday as the Senate rejected a proposal to make it easier to cut off filibusters.

The vote was 48-37 in favor, but a two-thirds vote was required for passage.

President Pounds At Peace Theme

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says he seeks to bring Americans their first full generation of peace in this century.

"I have set our sights on a span of time that men in positions of power today can cope with, just one generation, but one long step on the path away from perennial war," the President said Thursday.

His platform was a dedication ceremony at the Smithsonian Institution of an international center for scholars. It is named after Woodrow Wilson, who led Americans into World War I with the promise it would be "the war that will end war." Since it did not, and since the United States refused to join the League of Nations, Nixon said, the 28th president "died a broken man."

"But now, with a half-century's perspective, we can see the success of Woodrow Wilson begin to emerge. He identified the United States of America with the principle of the self-determination of all nations, weak and strong."

"He lit a spark that merged this nation with the cause of generosity and idealism." A day earlier, Nixon had declared he would not hesitate to use all U.S. airpower short of nuclear weapons to defend American troops in Indochina. He also declined to rule out support for Saigon should South Vietnam decide to invade North Vietnam.

His news conference comments stirred Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., former peace talks negotiator W. Averel Harriman and other critics of Nixon's war policies.

"President Nixon's statement that he would put no limit on the use of American airpower in Indochina is a major escalation of the war," McGovern said at a news conference.

Harriman said if the fighting spread into North Vietnam he was convinced China would intervene.

"We can expand it, yes, into Laos and we have done it into Cambodia and now it seems the President is considering going into North Vietnam," Harriman said in a talk to the Women's National Democratic Club.

U.S. Copters Unable To Lift Wounded Out

SAIGON (AP) — A strong North Vietnamese force kept a South Vietnamese artillery base six miles inside Laos under heavy attack, inflicting severe casualties in the first major battle reported along the Ho Chi Minh trail, informed U.S. sources said today.

Mortars, rockets, artillery and small arms fire slammed into the base Thursday and today. The attack was so heavy that American helicopters were unable to get into the base to lift out 80 wounded South Vietnamese and to look for a U.S. crewman missing during a previous mission.

There was no count of the dead yet.

Pilots who tried to land told Associated Press Correspondent Michael Putzel at Khe Sanh, "It's just too hot."

U.S. helicopter gunships flew around the base repeatedly, firing rockets at suspected North Vietnamese positions, but one pilot told Putzel: "They are really well hidden. We can't find them. We've fired up all the places we think they might be, but it hasn't slowed them down."

Ohio Assembly Gets Pair On Capital Punishment Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State-sanctioned killing will get its annual glance from legislators again during the 109th General Assembly's session.

Rep. Phale D. Hale, D-63 Columbus, a minister, and Rep. Larry Smith, D - 42 Cleveland, introduced in the House Thursday a measure calling for the abolition of the death penalty.

The day before, Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, introduced into the upper chamber a bill to restrict the use of the death penalty.

Under the Ocasek measure, only those convicted of a second capital offense and those who kill on-duty law enforcement officers would be eligible for the maximum sentence.

All others would receive life imprisonment.

Similar bills in the past have failed even to be passed out of committee.

The state's last legal execution was held March 15, 1963. There are currently 47 men and one woman awaiting execution in Ohio.

Gov. John J. Gilligan has said there will be no executions in the state until after the U.S. Supreme Court rules on the constitutionality of the death penalty.

"If they rule capital punishment is constitutional," the governor said, "I will have sworn to enforce the law, personal feelings notwithstanding."

Three bills to control the sale and use of explosives were also introduced into the House Thursday, as the legislature concluded its first full working week following a month-long recess.

Both houses of the legislature will convene Monday in skeleton session to receive new bills. Floor sessions will be resumed Tuesday with the Senate scheduled to meet at 1:30 p.m. and the House at 11 a.m.

The sponsors of the explosive control bills, Reps. Keith McNamara, R - 64 Columbus, Larry Smith, D - 42 Cleveland, and C. J. McLin, D-88 Dayton, all said the rash of bombings across the county prompted the legislation.

McLin authored another piece of legislation to permit the door-to-door registration of voters. Party committeemen would be designated as deputy registrars under the proposal.

A similar measure was introduced into the Senate last week by Sen. William Bowen, D - 9 Cincinnati. As with abolition of the death penalty, earlier voter

Cuts By Scheduled Airlines Hurt U.S. Air Mail Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recent cutbacks in scheduled airline flights have hit the U.S. Postal Service so hard officials say they plan to consider buying or leasing cargo planes to carry long-distance mail.

Asst. Postmaster General William Hargrove said such a move has been suggested as a possible solution to problems caused by the wave of flight cancellations.

In the past year, economically troubled airlines have eliminated about 700 flights, many of them the late-night take-offs which postal officials say carry large amounts of priority mail.

In some instances, Hargrove said in an interview, bags of mail have had to wait overnight at an airport before being loaded on a flight. This causes delays of up to a day in delivery, he added.

Hargrove said the Postal Service has tried to encourage airlines to keep their late-night flights by promising them a large haul of mail, but he indicated there has been little success in this effort.

As for buying or leasing planes to haul the mail, he said "This is something ... we'll have to take a look at." He said last year's Postal Reform Act gave the Postal Service authority to operate its own planes, then added: "The economics of it are not very good."

A spokesman for the Air Transport Association, asked about Hargrove's comments, said the flight cutbacks have had "some effects on the mail, but we are unaware of any but small, isolated problems which this has caused."

He said the Postal Service had not been in contact with the association or the airlines, adding that the association was sending a telegram asking to meet with postal officials "as soon as possible to review the matter and seek any necessary solutions."

Last year, the Postal Service paid airlines $154 million for hauling mail. For air mail shipments, airlines receive 24 cents per ton mile. For lower priority mail, the payment is 11.33 cents per ton mile. In addition, airlines receive handling charges ranging from 2.5 cents to 9.3 cents per pound of mail.

Patricia Krenwinkle Bares California Slayings

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patricia Krenwinkle, serene and softspoken, confessed in grisly detail that she killed two persons in the Sharon Tate murders and carved "War" on the chest of one of them.

The dark-haired, plain-looking defendant was unemotional as she testified Thursday that she chased coffee heiress Abigail Folger across the lawn of actress Tate's mansion and then "I stabbed her and I kept stabbing her."

The next night, she said, she stabbed the wife of wealthy market owner Leno LaBianca, later carving "War" in LaBianca's chest and leaving a fork stuck in his stomach.

She said bearded Charles Manson, hippie-style clan leader, was not involved in any of the seven killings in August 1969.

The 23-year-old, her wavy brown hair hanging nearly to her waist, was the second woman defendant to confess on the stand during the penalty phase of the murder trial. Susan Atkins has admitted killing Miss Tate and, in an unrelated incident, a Malibu physician.

Both said Manson was not involved. The two women, Manson and Leslie Van Houten have been convicted of murder. The jury is hearing evidence to decide if they should be sentenced to death or life in prison.

Miss Krenwinkle, describing her life with Manson's roving "family," said she considered him "perfection" and the best lover she ever knew.

Then she told of the night when Miss Tate and four visitors were slain in a red mansion on a hilltop.

Charles "Tex" Watson and Linda Kasabian, who testified for the state, "dropped acid" together before going on a drive. None told her where they were going, she said, and she had no intent to kill.

Her memory, she said, was blurred because the group was "stoned" on LSD, but she remembered violence and the chase of Miss Folger, 26.

"I had a knife in my hand and she ran out a back door ... I chased her through the door onto the lawn and I stabbed her and I kept stabbing her and I looked up and there was blackness and that was all."

"What did you feel after you stabbed her?" she was asked.

"Nothing ... It was just there and like it was right."

"What did you feel as you left?"

"I guess complete paranoia."

Her memories, she said, are of "reaction ... It's all a picture of motion and reaction. I can't remember details. There was some man I was tying up. I can remember looking up and Sadie was fighting with two women. I remember I just got (Continued on Page 2)

Men Held In Indiana For Slayings

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Two girls were shot to death Thursday night and four persons were wounded when two men fired into a west side home climaxing what police termed a "domestic argument."

Two young brothers were arrested about two hours after the shootings and are held today on preliminary charges of murder. They were identified as Matthew, 20, and Teft Ross, 19, of South Bend.

Police Capt. Robert Seals said Gwen Huggins, 17, and her sister, Emma, 15, were killed when two men came to the Huggins home, pushed open the front door and began firing into the living room.

The dead girls' mother, Nevada Huggins, 56, and another daughter, Lois, 20, were among the wounded. Two - year - old twins Blair and Tina Huggins escaped injury.

Capt. Seals said the investigation, although incomplete, indicates the shootings "stemmed from a domestic argument and apparently one of the Ross brothers had been married to a Huggins girl."

Also wounded were Carey Huggins, 13, reported in critical condition with two head wounds, and another daughter, Mrs. Hazel Humphrey, 35, South Bend.

Senators Against Filibuster Fare Even Worse In Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators fighting to make it easier to choke off filibusters fared even worse on their first test vote than they had predicted.

Even taking absentees into account, they expected to get more than 50 votes for halting a filibuster against the proposed rules change.

But when the roll was called Thursday, it showed 48 for closing out the 3½-week debate and 37 against, nine short of the required two-thirds majority.

Another petition to cut off debate will come to a vote Tuesday.

"Next week I hope we will have an improved vote," said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho.

up and went over and I was fighting."

Sadie is the nickname of Miss Atkins. Miss Krenwinkel is known as Katie.

The next day, she said, she and Miss Van Houten "were tripping" on LSD and that night they went on another drive, ending at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LaBianca. Miss Krenwinkel said Mrs. Kasabian and Watson went in first, then came out.

Miss Krenwinkel went in with Watson and Miss Van Houten and found the LaBiancas tied up on a sofa. The couple pleaded for their lives, she said, offering "anything" for mercy, but: "When you're on acid and someone tells you don't do something, you don't hear the don't."

She said Mrs. LaBianca took her and Miss Van Houten into a bedroom, then grabbed for a lamp. "I ran out to the kitchen and grabbed a whole bunch of utensils out of the drawer. I came back in and had a knife in my hand. Leslie had put a pillow case on her head."

"She began grabbing overhead for the lamp, and that's when I started stabbing her. . . I walked out of the room and I had the kitchen utensils in my hand. I remember flashing on a strange thing—little pictures of children."

"A man was on the floor and I remember thinking, 'You won't be sending your son to war,' and I guess I put 'War' on the man's chest. I picked up the fork and put it in his stomach."

She said she dipped a towel in the blood on La Bianca's stomach and scrawled words on the walls. Evidence in the trial showed the words were "Death to Pigs," "Rise," and "Felter Skelter," but she said she didn't recall them or their significance.

Miss Krenwinkel's homely face lit up with a bright smile as she spoke of her love for Manson.

"He's the man that made me feel like a woman—physical, yes, but in all ways."

She said she had sexual intercourse with Manson "four or five times" in two years, and "I've never been made love to so good in my life as from Charlie."

Her attorney asked, "Did Manson have any connection with you in these homicides you're on trial for?"
The answer: "None whatsoever."

Egypt Challenges Israelis To Respond To Peace Offer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Egypt served notice today that it will make no more concessions to get peace with the Israelis and challenged Israel to "tell the Arabs and the world whether it wants peace or territory."

"If Israel's answer is, 'Yes, I want your land, not your peace, and you can do what you like about this,' then Egypt will have to draw the inescapable conclusion that there is no alternative to fighting," said a local article in the semi-official newspaper Al Ahram. The article was signed by the paper's influential editor, Mohammed Hassanein Heikal.

The article said, however, that this did not mean Egypt would start shooting on March 7 when the current cease-fire expires. Instead it will retain the initiative to pick the "time, place and method of fighting."

Sources close to the Israeli government reported Thursday that Egypt has indicated it will sign a peace treaty if Israel returns all of the Sinai Desert. Israel has demanded a binding peace agreement as a prelude to any withdrawal from territory it occupied in the 1967 Middle East war.

Observers in Jerusalem noted that even though the reported Cairo offer included the standard demand for complete Israeli withdrawal, by speaking of a peace treaty or agreement, it went further than Egypt's previous expressions of willingness to reach a "settlement."

The Israeli sources reported that Egypt also held out the prospect that it would allow Israeli ships to use the Suez Canal if there was peace.

The sources said Egypt also said it would not interfere with Israeli shipping in the Strait of Tiran, between the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aqaba. The gulf gives access to Israel's southern port, Eilat, and an Egyptian threat to blockade it was one of the causes of the 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

The sources said Israel would not agree to total withdrawal but that Premier Golda Meir's government would urge direct talks with Cairo in an attempt to haggle out some compromise Israeli pullback.

They said an Israeli answer to the Egyptian proposal might be drafted at the next Cabinet session on Sunday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Russian diplomat's car was set afire early today in an exclusive Silver Spring, Md., residential neighborhood just north of Washington. No one was reported injured.

The words "Never again" are the slogan of the militant Jewish Defense League.

The Montgomery County Police Department in Silver Spring confirmed a Soviet diplomat's car had been set afire. The car's owner was not immediately identified.

4 Killed, 5 Missing In Blaze

TAFT, Calif. (AP)—Four persons were killed and five others missing today in a fire that destroyed a rest home just outside this Kern County community, firemen said.

Oliver Watson, assistant county fire marshal, said 12 guests and two attendants were in the frame building when the fire broke out.

When firemen arrived, flames had engulfed three-fourths of the two-story Desert Air Rest Home.

At least one of the survivors was hospitalized for treatment of burns.

Watson said two of the dead were burned beyond recognition. Two others died of apparent smoke inhalation.

The firefighters battled the blaze for more than an hour before bringing it under control. Only a portion of the north end of the building remained standing.

Jack Armstrong, an attendant, said his wife was awakened by the fire. He said when he opened the door to his room, the south end of the building was in flames.

North and South Vietnam and nine miles north of Highway 9, the main route of the South Vietnamese advance into southern Laos.

Despite the heavy attack, official South Vietnamese spokesmen continued to report only light resistance in Laos, and the Vietnamese commander of the Laotian operation said his 16,000 troops have occupied 25 miles of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam said in an interview that the incursion into Laos has been satisfactory. And Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, said the South Vietnamese "are doing very well."

Other sources reported that North Vietnamese forces were putting heavy pressure on a South Vietnamese column advancing slowly along Highway 9 to the transshipment point of Sepone.

Other South Vietnamese troops were reported fanning out from Route 9 in half a dozen different directions 15 to 18 miles to the north and south of Route 9. The forwardmost South Vietnamese elements were last reported 17½ miles from the bondee and 7½ miles away from Sepone.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that some of its paratroopers clashed Thursday with North Vietnamese troops just north of Route 9 about six miles northwest of Lao Bao. A communiqué said the Saigon troops killed 38 North Vietnamese while their own casualties were one killed and four wounded.

Lam said his forces had killed more than 700 North Vietnamese since the drive into Laos began 11 days ago and had captured over 600 North Vietnamese weapons, many of them antiaircraft machine guns.

But the enemy antiaircraft fire continued to take a heavy toll of American helicopters.

Hear Suit On Beatles

LONDON (AP) — The High Court began hearing evidence today in Paul McCartney's suit to break up the Beatles, and McCartney and his American wife were on hand for the hearing.

McCartney's counsel, David Hirst, asked the court to appoint a receiver to control the group's business until the court decides whether the partnership, Beatles and Company, should be dissolved.

The hearing is expected to last six days. The defendants are the other Beatles—John Lennon, George Harrison and Ringo Starr—and their management company, Apple Corps Ltd. Each of the Beatles has a 5 per cent interest in the partnership; Apple Corps has the remaining 80 per cent.

McCartney's suit came before the court briefly a month ago and was adjourned to enable the defendants to provide evidence.

Funds Released To Curb Lake Hope Pollution

State Sen. Harry L. Armstrong (R-Logan) announced Thursday that the State Controlling Board released $60,320 to buy two parcels totaling 67.31 acres in Brown Township, Vinton County, needed in a program to eliminate mine acid pollution of Lake Hope.

After long experimentation with various methods for eliminating the Lake Hope pollution, the Department of Natural Resources has concluded that complete elimination of the source of pollution in the watershed was the only solution.

In 1968, efforts were started to bring state ownership of all land and mineable coal severed from the land comprising the watershed.

To date, 1095 acres have been purchased.

The two parcels involved in this latest release of funds are critical to the plan.

Negotiations are under way to buy remaining land and coal needed to assure elimination of mine acid pollution.

Asians to fight Asians."

Nixon did not mention the Southeast Asian war in his Smithsonian speech, but the parallel to Wilson and to World War I gave his remarks special significance.

"We have taken the first steps toward walking in peace," Nixon said. "But we must first break the terrible world habit of war and only then can we learn the wondrous habit of peace."

"That is why today I do not speak of the war to end wars. Instead, I hope to focus on something that men alive today can achieve for themselves and their children, on a dream that we can realize here and now, a genuine beginning toward our ultimate goal."

The President shared the speaker's rostrum with the man he defeated for the presidency, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., a prime mover in establishment of the scholar's center.

The former vice president joined Nixon in praise of Wilson. In a gesture of bipartisanship, he gave Nixon a 1910 "Wilson for governor of New Jersey" campaign button to match the one he wore in his lapel.

Afterward, the two men left the building together and stood side by side signing autographs for eager spectators.

Dayton School Chief Is Given 2-Year Extension

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Wayne Carle has been granted a two-year contract extension as superintendent of the 55,000-pupil Dayton Public School System.

The Board of Education agreed Thursday to extend his contract through July of 1973 just as renewed calls came for his resignation. He has held the post since 1969.

Various board members and many citizens have been critical of Carle because of the financial situation in which the system is caught. The system is in the process of cutting back different programs and eliminating a number of teaching positions.

The latest criticism has come as the result of plans for converting certain schools into junior high facilities.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by

Judge Rules Lucas County Jail Unfit For Prisoners

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Describing conditions in the Lucas County jail as "sub-human," federal judge Don Young ruled Thursday prisoners in the bulging, 76-year-old facility are being deprived of their constitutional rights.

"If the constitutional provision against cruel and unusual punishment has any meaning," Young said, "the evidence in this case shows it has been violated."

Young ruled on a suit filed by several prisoners. He set a hearing for Monday to determine what form of relief will be provided the inmates.

Defendants in the case were the Lucas County board of commissioners, Sheriff William Metzger, a jail keeper, the Toledo superintendent of plumbing and the city's chief plumbing inspector.

Metzger testified this week there was nothing he could do about jail conditions unless the commissioners provided more money. The commissioners have said they have provided all the money they can.

In his decision, Young noted leaking water and sewer pipes, a lack of nutrition, lack of exercise or recreation, inadequate medical attention, no attempt at rehabilitation and deprivation of human contact.

The Lucas County Jail was designed to accommodate 150 prisoners, but now holds some 200.

While 75 per cent of the prisoners are awaiting trial, Young said, no effort is made to separate them from those serving time for convictions and no distinction is made between the two groups in treatment.

He said prisoners who lash out at the surroundings are subjected to even harsher confinement and are stripped of clothing.

Punishment is given persons awaiting trial as a matter of routine, the judge said, without any semblance of due process or fair treatment.

Young said such handling of persons not convicted of a crime is denying them equal protection of the law.

"It's no wonder that primitive standards in the Lucas County and other jails throughout Ohio," Young said, "because it's the policy of the state that the standards of punishment remain medieval."

He included the new state penitentiary under construction in Scioto County in this category, saying, "It's away from society" and designed after a medieval French prison.

Bill Bans Strip Mining

WASHINGTON (AP)—Freshman Rep. John F. Seiberling Jr., D-Ohio, was one of 28 House members who introduced a bill Thursday to ban strip mining of coal.

Seiberling said the southeastern portion of Ohio, which is strip mined heavily, has lost more population than any other part of the state.

"It is heartbreaking because this is some of the most beautiful sections of the state," he told newsmen.

Seiberling appeared at a press conference with the bill's principal sponsor, Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W. Va.

Hechler said the measure would phase out strip mining within six months of enactment.

He noted that a halt to strip mining would make it necessary for 25,000 to 30,000 miners to find other jobs but said "damage to the ecology is a much greater consideration."

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — We live in a roller coaster society in which everybody knows you when you're up and nobody knows you when you're down.

It is a society in which money is almost everything—and everything that money isn't, prestige is.

So it behooves you to keep your stature showing at all times. This requires periodic checkups.

Here's a ready guide to whether you're a climbing or falling star in that little niche of life you call your own.

You're doing okay if—

A new hybrid rose has been named in your honor.

Although your bride is as homely as an unpainted fence, you both are always invited to the best wife-swapping parties in your community.

You don't have to flash cash at the gaming tables in Las Vegas. Your signature on a chit will do quite well.

When you have to see your doctor, you make an appointment to meet him at your golf club on a Wednesday afternoon. Then you exchange advice on medical and financial matters.

At least three conductors on your suburban train unbend enough to call you by your nickname—and one always holds a seat for you in the bar car.

If your daughter gets married, you have the ceremony performed twice, once in the morning and once in the afternoon, because no church is large enough to hold all your friends and admirers at one time.

When you start to have a swimming pool dug in your backyard, the workmen strike oil.

You don't experiment with even the malcontents who boo the flag salute you.

The hippie office boy shaves off his beard because his ambition is to look and act like you. Your son is doing well in the college you bought him, your alimony is paid up three months ahead, and your mother now calls you mister in public.

So much for success. How about the other fellow, the guy whose career has peaked? How can he tell whether he is drowning or merely treading water?

Well, he simply has to suspect he is on the skids if—

He can't even hold his own place in a breadline.

His wife wants a divorce so bad she even agrees to pay him alimony.

His children won't let him visit them in prison because he is such a bore.

Crabgrass won't grow on his lawn.

His dog growls when he comes home, and only wags his tail when he sees him leaving.

He has to pay the full price for a magazine subscription.

When he looks up at the man in the moon, the man in the moon looks the other way.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THERE'S at least one kid in mid-Manhattan who has taken to heart the lessons he's learned in Sunday School. One day, for instance, this young paragon of virtue disclosed, "I'm giving up ice cream for Lent—that is, all except vanilla."

For years on end, when New York sports writers had a column to fill, but no news to fill it with, they came up with some story or other about Casey Stengel or Yogi Berra. Four out of five of the stories were outrageous fabrications, but who cared—so long as they were funny!

Here's a Maury Allen story about Stengel that has a ring of authenticity to it. Seems that a new Yankee pitcher, just up from the bushes, was facing the Tigers, with the score tied, and the bases full of Detroit players. With the count one and one on the batter, the pitcher went into his stretch, then suddenly stepped off the mound. The umpire correctly called a balk, and the Tigers had a cheap run across to break the tie.

At the end of the inning, the mortified recruit pitcher explained, "I couldn't help it, Mr. Stengel. A bug flew in my eye." "Nuts," growled Mr. Stengel. "If you're gonna pitch in the major leagues, kid, you're gonna hafta learn to catch them bugs in your mouth!"

Hollywood points with pride to the movie star who climbed the ladder of success—wrong by wrong.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Because we live in a small town, my wife and I are tempted to try to order dental plates by mail.

Is there any danger?

Mr. W.F., N. Dak. Dear Mr. F.: There probably is more foolishness than danger in this venture.

I have seen the "tempting" mail-order advertisements and I hardly believe that anyone could care so little about himself that he would take this chance of getting properly fitting teeth.

There are very few towns that do not have good dental services available within a reasonable distance. Surely, your health deserves the few trips necessary to prepare dentures properly.

Modern dentistry make its possible for dentures to be custom-made, with maximum comfort. Why risk the possibility of mail-order error?

There can be no substitute for the exacting science of dentistry. When dental plates are made, your entire mouth is examined, clinically and by X-ray, to be sure that no chronic disease is present. Certainly, this cannot be done by mail.

The temptation to buy dentures by mail may be great. But the disappointment may be greater.

What is the difference between a partial hysterectomy and a complete one?

How is the choice made?

Dear Mrs. R.: The uterus, or womb, consists of two anatomical parts: the major portion, known as the body of the uterus and the smaller part, or opening, known as the cervix.

Both the body and the cervix of the uterus are removed in a total hysterectomy. When the cervix is left, the operation is considered a partial hysterectomy.

Since this type of surgery is done for a wide variety of reasons, the choice depends entirely on the findings of the doctor and his surgical judgment.

Whether or not the rest of the female organs (the ovaries and the Fallopian tubes) are removed must necessarily depend on the critical judgment of the surgeon.

It is imperative that anyone about to undergo this type of surgery know a great deal about the physical and emotional aftereffects.

The confusion that sometimes occurs can be most distressing. All intimate and personal questions should be asked of your physician before this or any other type of surgery is performed.

Failure to use seat belts increases the risk of severe injury by almost 100 per cent. Don't gamble.

Columbus Getting HUD Area Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — Columbus, Ohio, is one of 15 cities in which new area offices of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development are being established.

Secretary George Romney said Wednesday the move is a continuation of a decentralization program aimed at bringing the department closer to state and local officials and private agencies.

Phony Refugee Statistics

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The Suez Canal will be reopened for one good reason: Moscow, which has been building fleet strength and port facilities in the Indian Ocean region, wants it that way. With the Trans-Siberian Railroad vulnerable to the Red Chinese at 20 points, the Russians need an alternate route to the Orient. But Egypt's President Anwar Sadat will try to milk the situation of every benefit before he obeys his Kremlin masters.

The Arabs are demanding a settlement of the Palestine refugee problem as a condition for reaching an agreement with the Israelis on clearing the Suez. Since the refugee question has been almost hopelessly obscured by unscrupulous manipulation of statistics over a period of 23 years, it could be a long time before there is any settlement.

The Arabs have been playing a numbers game with the refugees ever since the Israelis won the war of 1948. Some time ago I applied to UN sources for an accurate account of refugees by age groups. Nobody seemed to know just how many "refugees" have been born since 1948 in the camps in the Gaza Strip, in Jordan, in Lebanon and in Syria. (The Egyptians, significantly did not set up any camps on their own territory outside of the Gaza Strip.) Nor could anybody tell me how many of the original 1948 refugees had died. The refugee rolls, as registered with the UN Relief and Works Agency, have obviously been padded by the thousands to include children even unto the third generation who have never seen their Palestinian "homeland." And the number of the dead on the rolls must exceed the count of the graveyards that used to be voted in Chicago in the palmist days of the Kelly-Nash political machine.

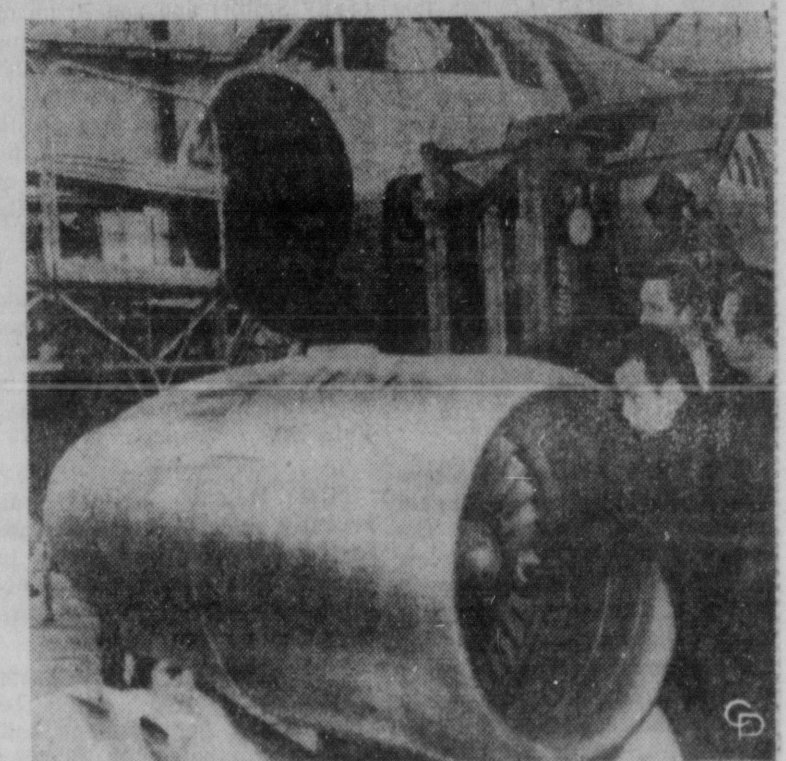

To determine just how many actual refugees there are, Dr. Walter Pinner — a scholar whose integrity is vouched for by the British MP, Richard Crossman — has assembled the results of seventeen years' study of the UNRWA refugee rolls. In 1966 the UNRWA figure for refugees was 1,317,749, but Dr. Pinner says that the UNRWA totals include almost the entire population of the Gaza Strip and the Jordanian West Bank. These people may be "Palestinian Arabs," but they were never "refugees" from anybody. According to the Pinner investigations, the real figure for genuine displaced Palestinian Arabs is 367,000. This is less than one-third of the UNRWA figure for 1966.

The 850,000 UNRWA relief roll "excess" that is registered with the UN includes thousands who are still using the ration cards of deceased refugees. The ration cards of the dead are bought and sold in the black market, which gives a peculiar longevity, not to say immortality, to any Arab who left Israeli territory in 1948. According to Dr. Pinner, there were 117,000 unrecorded refugee camp deaths as of 1966, the year before the Six Day War. And the 1966 UNRWA rolls still include 109,000 ex-refugees who had been resettled in 1948. The bloated false-front figures were swelled by 225,000 ex-refugees who had become self-supporting between 1948 and 1966 in Syria, Lebanon, and Jordan. Then there were the 484,000 "self-appointed refugees" who happened to be living in the Gaza Strip and in West Jordan when the 1948 war was concluded. Adding in 15,000 Jordanian frontier villagers, you get the total of 950,000 "refugees" whose rights to the title will hardly bear inspection. It is the Israeli contention that the Arabs, had they cared for their own Palestinian blood brothers, could easily have built a new life for 367,000 genuinely displaced persons. After all, the Israelis themselves have absorbed more than half a million Jewish refugees who were expelled from Algiers, Tunisia, Libya, Morocco, Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Iraq and Yemen in the years after 1948. But it suited Egypt's Nasser to keep the Palestinian refugees bottled up in camps, where they could be used as a propaganda pawn.

It will be said, of course, that Dr. Pinner's researches were "Zionist"-inspired since they have been published in Tel Aviv. Maybe. His figures are subject to check by disinterested parties. Couldn't we have an "international" age-group census of refugees before the whole problem is allowed to becloud the Middle Eastern peace negotiations that are coming up?

A perfect attendance mark by all students of Saltcreek Twp. school was broken when senior Neva Haynes was forced to be absent because of illness.

Scioto's Ray Beavers was credited with the championship winning goal to give Scioto Buffalo junior high eagles the county tournament title in a double overtime win over Darby Trojan juniors.

An order of foreclosure of mortgages against Circleville Moose Lodge and Roll and Bowl, Inc. was issued in county court.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — You can fake a signature and change a number but not even a plastic surgeon can forge a face, and so, in a limited sense, a person's uniqueness is more appreciated again in this highly impersonal world.

Photographs, that is to say, are now accompanying numbers and signatures on millions of identification cards and checks, and the trend seems likely to many millions of people in the next few years.

This is a tense, suspicious world, and those with whom you interact want to be sure you are who you claim to be. A color photograph, immediately bonded to a unique plastic, sometimes watermarked, is rapidly becoming the proof.

An illustration: The scene is a large Miami Beach hotel at Christmas. Vandalism is running very high, as much as $40,000 a year. Loitering teenagers slash couches, etc., but hotel officials are wary of accusing guests.

Some teenagers often charge flowers, skating and swimming lessons, cabanas, surfboards, meals to fictitious hotel room numbers. Parents sometimes stay at nearby motels and send children to participate in social programs, dances, etc.

Solution: The hotel now uses instant photo identification cards. As registrants sign for rooms, a camera takes a Polaroid color photo, and with special, closely guarded equipment, bonds it to plastic in seconds.

Since the picture is not merely laminated between plastic sheets but blended with the plastic, any attempt at substituting another photo is frustrated. An attempt at resealing might melt the entire disc anyway.

Without a card in that hotel you now may be asked to leave. The lobby has been cleared of unregistered loungers, vandalism has almost been ended, the noise level has dropped.

The manager claims this untypical but interesting result: A mother who had been renting a $12 motel room near the hotel and sending her three children to the hotel each day for recreation, signed up for a $128-a-day suite.

The illustrations are numerous. Consider the ridiculous situation of forged student ID cards. At one southern university with an enrollment of 9,000 students, 13,000 fans showed up one night for a basketball game.

Roger Kuhns, head of Avant Inc., one of the pioneers in photo identification systems, estimates that the industry still has volume of less than $50 million a year but that the future couldn't be brighter.

There is reason to be uncomfortable about the forecast because it is based on expectations that most people feel indicate a deterioration of society, but Kuhns exonerates himself with the reminder, "We're an effect, not a cause."

Better Deal Sought

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — First the blacks. Then the Chicanos. Now the American Indians are stepping up their demands to a better portrayal of their people on the movie screen and more jobs in the film industry.

Through most of film history, the Redskins have been portrayed in the worst possible light. Except for rare films like "Broken Arrow" and "Cheyenne Autumn," the story of the West has been told through white man's eyes. The Indian generally has been shown as the most savage of savages.

"I don't think our people were that mean," says Chief Dan George, the British Columbia Indian who won the New York Critics award for supporting actor in "Little Big Man."

"Throughout the world the image of the Indian is wrong," says Jay Silverheels, veteran Hollywood actor most noted for his Tonto with "The Lone Ranger."

"Movies have always projected the Indians as the aggressor, interested only in acquiring scalps. This is an inaccuracy. Many of the tribes were peaceful people who fought only when their territory was threatened."

Indian groups are becoming active in combatting what they believe is a bad screen image.

Recently Warner Bros. starred Anthony Quinn in the film version of a well-known novel, "Nobody Loves a Drunken Indian." Indian organizations first protested the casting of Quinn, arguing that a real Indian should be used. Later they relented, agreeing that since Quinn is part-Mexican he might have some Indian blood.

But the title infuriated many Indians, who resented the connection of Redskins and alcohol. Warner Bros. bowed to the protests and retitled the film "Nobody Loves Flapping Eagle."

In Minneapolis the film "Horse" which shows an English nobleman treated as a beast of burden by Sioux Indians—was picketed by a group called The American Indian Movement.

"Every time there is a movie in which Indians are portrayed as villains, we get protests," says a spokesman for the Motion Picture Producers Association. "Now we're getting pressure from the militant Chicano groups, too. They include the Indians in their cause."

Like the blacks and the Chicanos, Mexican-Americans, Indians are now seeking more employment in the film industry.

By Pickaway County Library Staff

Policy for the Pickaway County District Public Library is set by a board of trustees who reside in various parts of the county and in Circleville. These civic-minded persons serve without pay, and their terms are seven years in length. In some instances, trustees have served two and even three terms.

Present members of the board are Roger Bennington, president, Mrs. Donald Collins, Mrs. Ray Davis, Mrs. Paul Fenstermaker, Mrs. Roger May, newest member of the board, Mr. Jack Smith, and Mr. Roger Smith. Most of their work is done in committees, and they attend meetings and workshops of the Ohio Library Trustees' Association. They are active in many civic groups, among them the Pickaway County Historical Society.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official weather bureau summary for Ohio:

The mild weather and above normal temperatures across Ohio Thursday night are expected to continue but temperatures are expected to return to normal by the weekend.

Showers are expected tonight as a low pressure area over Kansas moves northeast to the Great Lakes area tonight.

A warm front associated with the low extends across Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia, and will move northward across Lake Erie tonight.

A cold front with the low pressure system will move east across Ohio later tonight and bring cooler weather to the Great Lakes area and the Ohio Valley.

Lows tonight are forecast to range from the mid 30s to the mid 40s.

The forecast calls for variable cloudiness and a chance of showers Saturday in northern Ohio with temperatures in the upper 30s and 40s across the state.

—FORECASTS—

OHIO — Showers likely with a chance of thundershowers south portion tonight, low in upper 30s and 40s. Saturday, variable cloudiness and turning cooler with chance of showers north, high in upper 30s and 40s.

NORTHWEST INLAND, WEST LAKE SHORE, EAST LAKE SHORE and NORTH-EAST INLAND — Showers likely tonight, low in upper 30s and low 40s. Saturday, cloudy with chance of showers, high in upper 30s to mid 40s, turning colder in afternoon and night.

WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL, and EAST CENTRAL — Cloudy with showers likely tonight and possibly a thundershower, low in the low 40s. Saturday, considerable cloudiness and turning colder, high mostly in the 40s.

SOUTHWEST & SOUTHEAST Showers or a thundershower likely tonight, high today from mid 50s to mid 60s. Low in the low 40s. Saturday, partly cloudy and cooler, high mostly in the 40s.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

His Date Right One For Occasion

DEAR ABBY: I called a girl for a date and she accepted. I made dinner reservations at a high-class club that features soft lights, music and dancing. I told this girl where we were going and I also told her I was wearing a black pin-stripe suit with light blue shirt and matching tie and handkerchief so she should dress accordingly.

She lives way out in the opposite direction from where we were going so I sent a taxi to her house to pick her up. When she showed up at my place she was wearing pants, sneakers and a hippie jacket with "peace and love" all over it. I know this girl can dress nicely because I've seen her in nice clothes.

I told her I was sorry but I couldn't take her to the place where I had reservations because they wouldn't let us in the place with her dressed like that. I paid her taxi fare home, and with the time flying I quickly asked a girl in my apartment if she wanted to go out for dinner. She jumped at the chance, dressed up like a lady, and we had a wonderful evening.

My question: Was I wrong to have sent the first girl home? I don't think so, but some other people think I was.

DEAR ME: Since "WHERE" you went was obviously much more important to you than "WITH WHOM" you went, you weren't wrong.

DEAR ABBY: About 15 months ago my husband passed away and I sold one of his suits (almost new) to one of the neighbors for $10.

Just the other day, this neighbor called me and asked me to take the suit back and give her the $10 back. So I did. She is supposed to be one of my best friends. This upset my whole family. What is your opinion of this?

DISCOURAGED
I think your friend must have been desperately in need of $10.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the Indiana mother whose child had a speech defect and was teased by the other children. You recommended a speech therapist.

No therapist works "miracles" in such a short time. We started taking our child to speech therapists when he was three years old. Seven years later he still needs coaching. Handicapped children suffer more from unkind treatment than their peers (and often from adults) than they do from a speech defect.

Despite therapy and daily coaching at home, our son is still taunted by children. And I've actually seen another mother laugh and encourage her own child to call my son names.

WISCONSIN MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: The mother you referred to in your letter needs help more than a handicapped child does.

DEAR ABBY: If women's liberation achieves just one goal I shall forget all the others. And that is the relief from the stigma of the frequently awarded and phony label "ladies." Particularly when it adorns the cubicle next to the one marked "Men" and where "ladyship" has no standing.

R.L. GREENE

DEAR MR. GREENE: True, but while all ladies are women, not all women are "ladies," if you want to get technical. Now how about those cubicles marked "gentlemen," which are constantly used by men who don't qualify as "gentlemen"? Would you settle for "His and Hers"?

Find Prints, Other Clues In Slayings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police said Thursday "conclusive" fingerprints were found on a butcher knife used in the murder of a young housewife and her infant son.

Detectives also revealed they had two other clues, a cast of a tennis shoe print and a personal article left behind by the killer, which they hope will lead to an arrest.

The shoe print was found outside the townhouse apartment in which Christina Mitchell, 25, and her 8-month-old son Scott were slain Tuesday.

Police would not identify the personal article, which they hope to be able to trace.

Mrs. Mitchell had been raped, detectives said, and cash and other valuables had been taken from the apartment.

Her husband, James, discovered the grisly scene when he returned home from work Tuesday evening.

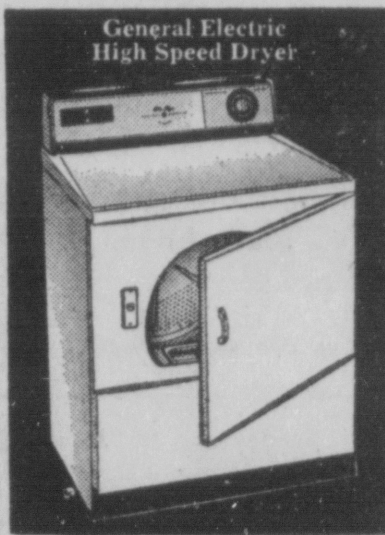

Mrs. Mitchell, partially clad, was gagged and tied at the hands with a knife protruding from her chest.

O'Brien Pushes Demo Reforms

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien urged the Democratic National Committee today to approve reforms that will make the 1972 presidential nomination a product of an open political process.

"In pragmatic terms," O'Brien said, "this meeting of the Democratic National Committee—the governing body of this party—is the true beginning of our effort to regain the national leadership and to put an end to this terrible stagnation Richard Nixon has brought to our country."

The 110-member national committee met to set procedures for next year's nominating convention.

O'Brien said the burden is on Democrats to offer the nation an alternative to the Republican administration.

"We must prove that the other major political entity in the United States has something else to offer—something so much better than the choice is vividly, unmistakably clear," he said. "Only then will we have proved our right to national leadership."

He urged members of the national committee "to ensure that the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination is worth the candle; to see that this nomination is a gift of a party that truly represents all Democrats, and that it is the end product of a political process that is open to all."

The major point of contention at today's session was over the formula for allocating delegates at next year's convention.

The party's executive committee has suggested a formula giving each state three delegates for each electoral vote, dividing the remainder of the seats on the basis of Democratic strength in the last three presidential elections.

The executive committee rejected a plan offered by the party's O'Hara commission allocating delegates on the basis of state population and the Democratic vote in the 1968 presidential election.

The major practical difference between the two plans is that the executive committee's takes some votes from larger states and gives them to smaller ones. Both plans would give the larger states a bigger share of the 1972 convention than they had in 1968.

The national committee was to consider a proposal increasing the 1972 convention from 2,622 to 3,014 votes but sharply reducing the number of alternates.

Another reform effort calls on state parties to meet new requirements that women, young people and minority groups be included as delegates roughly in proportion to their presence in the state's population; that 15-year-olds participate, and other changes to prevent a repetition of the charges of unfairness at the turbulent 1968 convention.

Carter Is Chairman Of Constitution Panel

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Richard Carter of Fostoria, president of the Fostoria Corp., was elected chairman of the state Constitutional Revision Commission Thursday.

The commission was created by the 108th General Assembly to examine the Ohio Constitution and recommend changes in it.

It's a long hike! Traveling to our goal can take a lifetime, but it's worth it. Every morning we start out on another stage of the journey, and it's up to us how much we accomplish before nightfall.

What is the goal? What is our highest peak of spiritual development? What are the rewards? All the things we long for — peace of mind . . . perfect freedom . . . contentment . . . happiness.

Many are still struggling through the forests of unbelief and despair. Some are lost and confused in the mists of doubt. Others are already climbing the foothills of hope. Many of us will reach the summit if we pray constantly for help and strength.

The Christian scriptures are your infallible guidebook, and the Christian Church offers you a place of spiritual refreshment along life's road. Attend church this Sunday, and continue your journey with a lighter burden . . . and a lighter heart.

Everyone was sorry to hear of the passing of Emery (Buck) Reay on Wednesday morning. He was 78 years old. Deepest sympathy of the community are extended to his wife, Gladys, son Bill and his family, and to his sisters, Mrs. Sue McKinley of Harrisburg and Mrs. Velsa Bricker of Mt. Sterling. Buck will be missed, for he was a familiar figure here, and well-liked by all who knew him. He leaves many friends and neighbors.

The Charge Conference will be held on Sunday, Feb. 21 at the Derby United Methodist Church. Dr. Copeland will be bringing the sermon at 10:30 a.m. Lunch will be served at noon. Donations will be asked to help defray the expenses. Conference will begin at 1 p.m. Everyone is invited to come and bring family and friends.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Dawson and family were Mr. Charles Dawson (an uncle of Jim) his son Calvin Dawson and his children, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dawson of New Albany, his son John Dawson and his family.

The Westfall Boosters Club and the Monroe Men's Club will sponsor a Gospel Sing, at Westfall High School at 2 p.m. on March 7 with special guest singers, the Blackwood Singers from Nashville, Tenn. Having heard them perform previously I can tell you they are really great entertainment.

From Reverend Feazel of the Southwest Church - of the Nazarene:

We have heard of many people asking about the Southwest Church of Nazarene and how we are doing. We have purchased our land and have started a building fund for our new church of which we are very proud.

The Junior Sunday Class are collecting pop bottles for the building fund. If you have some bottles you would like to give to them please call 877-3576 or 877-3355 and we will be glad to pick them up.

We would like to invite anyone who is searching for a church to spend a Sunday morning at our service to see how well we are doing, and perhaps we may help you in your search for God and his help.

If you would like to have the pastor or a member of the church call on you at your home you may call Rev. Steven Feazel at 877-3659.

Friday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sweet were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brown of Ashville.

Birthday greetings to the following: Beverly Wilkey, 14 on Feb. 10; Jessie Wilkey — Feb. 5; John Carson (Buddy) Looney — Feb. 14; Bonnie Long — Feb. 14; Beth Fyffe — Feb. 14; Denica Brigner — Feb. 15; Lura Jo Christensen and Sandy Johnson — Feb. 16; David Johnson — Feb. 17; Carolyn Tadlock — Feb. 18; Martha Vincent and Dale Vernon Elliott Jr. — Feb. 19.

Anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. John Hildenbrand — Feb. 16; Mr. and Mrs. Danny Van Hoose — Feb. 20.

If anyone has a kitchen range (coal and wood) in good shape, please call me at 869-2462. A lady in this area is badly in need of one.

FDA Proposes Combination Drug Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration has proposed tightening marketing approval of drugs containing two or more active ingredients.

The action could limit the number of new, so-called combination drugs for sale and prune many already on drug store shelves.

Combination drugs range from heart medications to antibiotics. They comprise 40 per cent of the prescriptions written by doctors. Most over-the-counter drugs, such as cold remedies and headache pills, also are combinations.

The regulations, scheduled to go into effect after a 30-day period, are designed to insure combinations "are used only when such preparations offer the patient the therapeutic advantage over any one or more of the components administered separately," the FDA said.

Critics have claimed that combination preparations could expose patients to unnecessary drugs when one ingredient would be effective.

4 Deaths Are Probed At Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police in suburban Greenhills are working under the theory that the stabbing deaths of a man and his two sons, and the shooting of his wife was a triple homicide and apparent attempted suicide.

Police Chief Jack Leach said that "It looks like an attempted suicide after the murder of the three persons."

The body of Joseph Beaudry, 34, who had been suffering from multiple sclerosis, was found Thursday in the living room of his home in Greenhills. The bodies of his sons, Joseph, 8, and John, 6, were discovered in one bedroom, and his wife, Bettilee, 32, was found wounded in another bedroom.

She was listed in serious condition today at Bethesda North Hospital.

Police said that the incident occurred either late Wednesday night or early Thursday, and that relatives found the bodies and Mrs. Beaudry.

Police said that a knife and .32 caliber revolver were found near the woman.

The population of Tonga is about 81,000.

No Agreements Reached On Kent State Prosecution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "We didn't agree to anything," Atty. Gen. William J. Brown said after meeting with student activists who wanted the state to drop indictments resulting from spring disorders at Kent State University.

But members of the 20-student committee appeared satisfied with the course of action

Annual Grange Guest Meeting Is Scheduled

"My Country If The World" is the theme for the annual guest meeting for Pickaway County Granges scheduled Feb. 27 at the 4-H and Grange Building, starting with a Cooperative Dinner.

For the program each of the 7 Subordinate Granges will present a brief number, Betty Jo and Bonnie Bolender will supervise group singing, special recognition will be given members and their friends who have experienced travels outside of U.S.A.

Guest speakers will be Mr. and Mrs. Chaney Vance who will present an illustrated talk concerning their Farm Visitation tour through Belgium, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Italy, and Spain.

Brown is taking.

"We would have preferred that the attorney general drop the suits," said Terry Hardy of the Cleveland Peace Action Council, "but we are satisfied that the case is being looked at objectively."

Brown told the students he had formed a team of five lawyers to review all information on the Kent disturbances and report back to him.

A special state grand jury investigated the disturbances, during which four students were shot to death by National Guardsmen, and returned indictments against 25 persons.

A federal court judge in Cleveland last month let the indictments stand but threw out a report that accompanied them, saying it could endanger the rights of those indicted.

"The report can be expunged from the legal record, but cannot be erased from the minds of millions of Americans," Miss Hardy said Thursday.

She contended the indictments should be dropped because publicity about the report would make it impossible for the 25 to receive an "impartial and fair" trial.

Brown said the students voiced views on many things, but he would not identify specific issues. He said the meeting was arranged on condition that it be given no publicity.

Some of the groups represented were the American Civil Liberties Union, the New Democratic Coalition, the Students Mobilization Committee and the National Peace Action Coalition.

Bible Is Israel's Classic Culture, History

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

In Italy, it's the opera. In Switzerland, it's the Alps. In Russia, it's the party. In America, it's baseball. But in Israel, it's the Bible.

It's the people's principal pastime. Whether a person takes it religiously or not, the Book of books is considered Israel's chief classic of national culture and history, and nearly everyone, believers and nonbelievers, takes keen interest in it, both in study and games.

This also includes convicts. Although Israel's annual national and international Bible quizzes are well known and arouse about the same mass fervor there as a World Series does in the United States, little has been told of the prison counterpart.

An article in the current Hadassah magazine, a monthly of the Women's Zionist Organization of America, describes those unusual annual Scripture competitions held among hundreds of inmates of the country's prisons.

The competitive tensions mounting behind the walls as the process of elimination builds toward a climax, the account says:

"Even in prison we remain the people of the Book," an official said, opening the 1970 finals, held recently in Central Jail at Ramle. "There is no man as free as he who occupies himself with Torah."

Just as in the general competition, the contest among prisoners had gone through months of preparatory studies and preliminary matches in Central Jail, as well as in a neighboring "minimum security" prison, the women's prison Neve Tirza and Tel Mond's prison for youthful offenders.

"Every prison has its own Bible-study groups," the article says. "Many of the inmates in Israeli jails are well steeped in Bible ... Local teachers come regularly to lead and supervise the groups."

"As the season rolls around for another Bible competition, studies are stepped up and prisoners stay up late in the reading room or in their cells poring over Bibles and commentaries."

Through preliminary bouts in each prison, the 1970 contenders were winnowed to 70 semifinalists, and further matches cut this to 15 finalists, assembled in the Central Jail courtyard for the decisive round of questioning.

Adorning the walls of the prison courtyard were banners bearing such Biblical quotations as, "This Book of the Law shall not depart out of your mouth." (Joshua 1:8).

One girl and three non-Jewish men—a Christian, a Moslem and a Druze—were among the 15 finalists. Relatives and friends were admitted as spectators.

Humility Before God

HUMILITY IN PRAYER AND DAILY LIFE

Scripture—Luke 14:7-11; 18:9-14.

By R. H. RAMSEY
IN AN AGE when pride is virtually a household word, even the idea of humility is somewhat less than popular. Daily, and from all sides, we are urged to be proud of something—our "heritage," sometimes a misnomer for a multitude of sins; our "social position," which may have been established by an ancestor who may have out-Scooped Scrooge before his life style changed; our "achievements," much of them dependent upon which rung of the ladder we started from; our "education," all of which derives from the great minds which preceded us; our "skin color," which is nonsense—were we all blind we would be forced to judge others by more important standards.

Is it purely coincidental that "pride" is a five-letter word with "I" right in the middle of it? Alexander Pope called pride the "never-failing vice of fools." Webster defines it as "an over-high opinion of oneself." God condemns it, promising bitterness to the haughty. It leads the list of the seven deadly sins.

the embarrassment of being publicly asked to take a lesser one.

Humility and humiliation are a world apart. The humble person cannot possibly be humbled by any man. And in the final judgment of God, every man will be put in his proper place. Those who exalt themselves will be abased; and those who humble themselves will be exalted.

In a second parable Jesus contrasted the prayers and attitudes of two men. One, a Pharisee, stood proudly where all could see him praying. He suffered from a "better-than-thou" variety of righteousness, flaunting his morality and virtues before the Lord, ignoring the fact that all men are sinners.

His ethical standards were good—as far as they went—but he set himself up a paragon of virtue, praying only so men could see and hear him when he really needed to pray earnestly for the grace of humility.

In sharp contrast is the prayer and attitude of the publican, a man scorned and avoid-

GOLDEN TEXT

"For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted."—Luke 14:10.

And it's more common than the common cold.

Virtually all the New Testament writers stress the importance of humility. Jesus repeatedly stressed the truth that only the humble can ever be lifted up in God's kingdom. Speaking of Himself, Jesus said, "I am meek and lowly in heart." Here was a man who knew He was the Son of God, who had all power over nature, men, disease, death and demons, yet He had humility. He thought and talked of Himself as a humble man. And in the verses assigned to this lesson, Jesus reveals the importance of humility in our social life and before our Maker.

Jesus' remarks about taking the lowest seat instead of the place of honor at a wedding feast were occasioned by the behavior of others at a feast He was attending. He observed them selfishly scrambling for the "best seats in the house," and advised His listeners that it would be far better to take a lesser seat and wait to be given a place of high distinction than to grab the seat of an honored guest and suffer.

ed by his fellows. He was so ashamed of himself that he stood as far from the holy place as he could get, so none but God could hear him.

He cast his eyes down, refused to lift them, and beat his breast. He recognized himself as a sinner and cried out for God's mercy. He begged God's forgiveness for his sins and received it.

Jesus used this parable to illustrate that the only truly worthwhile prayer is the one born of humility. The Pharisee had no sense of spiritual deficiency so he asked nothing of the Lord. The publican knew he fell far short of what he could have been and the only thing he dared do was ask the Lord for mercy. The Pharisee was figuratively patting himself on the back while the publican was literally beating his breast.

All men are made righteous in God's sight when we depend upon His mercy and not our own goodness, for those who exalt themselves before the Lord shall be humbled and those who humble themselves before the Lord shall be exalted.

Soviet Sub Seen In Caribbean, Pentagon Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Soviet submarine designed for anti-submarine warfare has been sighted in Cuban waters, according to the Pentagon.

Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Fridheim declined to specify the location of the submarine and two surface craft, a tanker and the submarine tender, but he said a Russian light cruiser was spotted Tuesday in the Gulf of Mexico, about 400 miles northwest of Havana.

The Russians had previously announced in Moscow that four vessels, including a submarine, would make a new visit to Cuba.

Following recent Pentagon policy, Fridheim gave few details of the ships' movements in the Caribbean. Among other things, he refused to identify ports of call or say whether the submarine had been serviced by the tender.

conversation like that which Americans accord the slugging of Babe Ruth.

The winner of the 1970 Third National Bible Quiz for Prisoners was Menashe Ben Yosef, who answered a stiff set of questions about the books of Ruth, Lamentations, Ecclesiastes, Esther and the Song of Songs.

Among Israelis, the Bible "is to their public water supplies.

The yearly rate of increase continues to be about 400 to 500 communities, Dr. Viron Diefenbach, assistant executive director for dental health of the American Dental Association said in an interview Wednesday.

He estimated that 43 communities with two million population were added in 1970, the 25th anniversary of public water fluoridation.

Grand Rapids, Mich., was the first U.S. city to fluoridate its water, in 1945, followed the same year by Newburgh, N.Y. Brantford, Ont., also added fluorides to its water that year.

At the end of 1969, fluorides were being added to the water of 4,834 communities serving 80.1 million persons.

In addition, 2,624 communities in the United States have naturally fluoridated water supplies. These serve 8.4 million persons.

All states have some communities with fluoridation, and a few have laws requiring it as a public health measure.

Boston, Los Angeles and New Orleans are among the few major cities without such laws, Diefenbach said.

University Hall

To Come Down

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University officials apparently won a 15-year-old fight Thursday to tear down 97-year-old University Hall, a campus landmark.

The seven-member State Controlling Board released $5.9 million to tear down the old hall and build two new structures.

Under the proposal, a replica of University Hall would be constructed as well as an annex across the street, connected by a tunnel.

Stock Cars Are Hobby Of Mr. Neel

RICHARD NEEL
Industrial Arts

By DEBBIE BELLAMY and TRISHA PASSMORE

"Men, start your engines" ... the green flag drops ... and the race is on! Stock car racing can be fun especially when you have the satisfaction of constructing your own stock car. This is what Mr. Richard Neel, Industrial Arts teacher at the Junior High, enjoys as his pastime.

Mr. Neel resides with his wife, Patricia, on Franklin St. here in Circleville. He received his B.A. from Morehead University in Kentucky. His major and minor were industrial art and geography, respectively.

Before teaching in Circleville, Mr. Neel was employed by Owens-Illinois Forest Products Division in Bradford, Pa. There, he worked as a package designer.

When asked about CJHS he replied, "Most of the students are very cooperative and well-behaved." He believes that many changes in the Industrial Arts classes are taking place and that the students should find future classes to be much more interesting and beneficial.

Tribute Paid To '71 Senior Grads

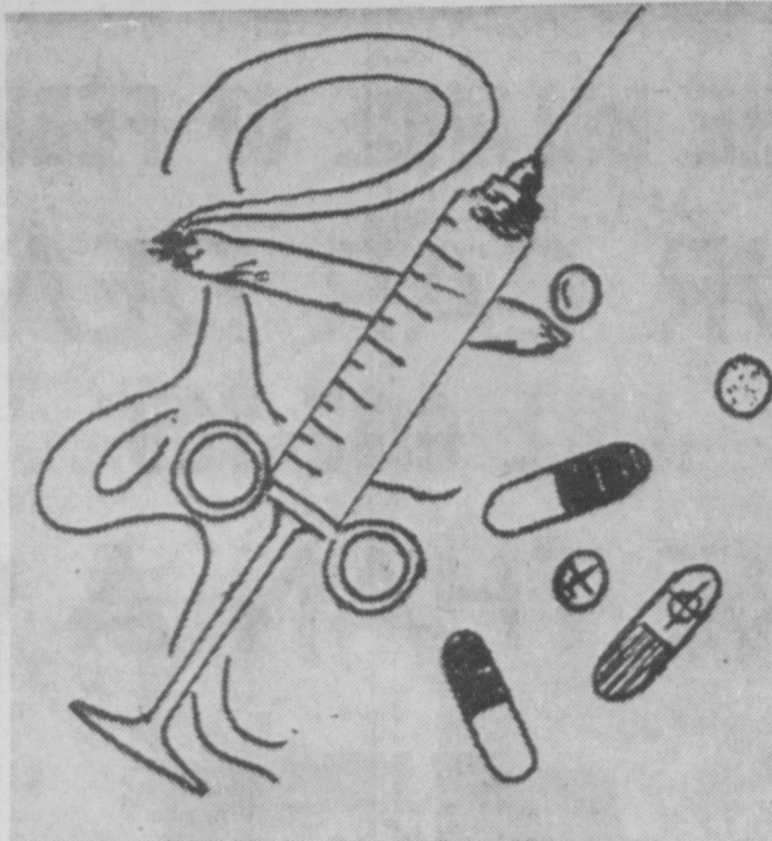

BEQUEATH POMPOMS TO SUCCESSORS — A little zip will go out of CHS's spirit when these three cheerleaders graduate this year. Captain Lissa Rihl, front, joins Jody Steele and Betsy Bach in one final effort for their boys on the ball floor, as a final tribute to Circleville's sports tradition and their fellow seniors.

FINAL TOOTS — Members of the CHS stage band will play their last tribute to the fighting Tigers at tonight's game. Leaving their positions to younger music students are Jim Shank, Arlene Walters and Christi Dresbach.

ONE MORE TIME — A final salute is given the senior basketball players of 1971 for boosting the team to a possible SCOL title. These five boys have put in many hours of hard work to achieve the victories for CHS. They are: front, Dennis Jackson and Tom Bowers and back row, Rick Prushing, team statistician and Greg Roll and John Hunt.

Students Answer Questions On Wittenberg Drug Seminar

By LEE JOLLIFFE and LINDA STRUCKMAN

Students who went to Wittenberg last August for a seminar on alcohol and drugs are still representatives on the governor's council on drugs. Lately the students were sent a questionnaire to find out how much of the seminar they remembered.

How many of these questions would you know the answers to? Why do people drink? For fun, to keep warm, to cool off, to pep up, to relax, to reduce shyness, to stimulate sociability; in other words because they want to.

Why do people take drugs? Out of curiosity, to relieve nervous tension, to become "aware", to escape, to rebel, to feel good, to have fun. (Note: Legal drugs are pushed everywhere; "Take this if you can't sleep ... if you hate your wife ... If your wife hates you.")

Is mental illness bad? Normal people have killed more people than crazy people. People can elect to do one thing or another, but no one elects to be mentally ill—the illness occurs because of their circumstances.

Is the solution to "stop manufacturing alcoholic drinks and drugs"? No. For every human problem there is an easy solution — neat, easy, and wrong. The problem is not the drugs, but the reason for their use. A solution to the problem will come if or when the youth of America find what they are looking for, be it kicks, escape, or an increased awareness.

'Music Mania' Marches At High School

By KATHY OROS

The music department at CHS has been very busy entertaining this month. This music mania will continue into March.

Triple Trio performed at a Rotary meeting Feb. 11. The trio sang a medley of old and new songs at the luncheon which was held at the LK Restaurant. For dessert the Triple Trio performed an arrangement of enjoyable music.

The newly formed Boys Trombone Quartet consisting of Dave Shank, Dave Winner, Gary Scheer, and Dave Grigg, also entertained the Rotary Club. Their songs were familiar folk songs set to new rhythms and new chords.

Folk Group was also busy on Feb. 11. The traveled to Washington Twp. School to provide entertainment for an athletic banquet. Their program consisted of popular songs of today.

The Triple Trio was engaged again to provide music for a Valentine's Day Banquet that was held at the First Baptist Church on Feb. 16. By attending so many dinner meetings and banquets these girls are going to have to watch their waistslines or else everyone else will.

On Feb. 19, 20, and 21, six students from CHS will travel to Morehead State University for a special clinic. Mr. Gary Dean will escort this group to Kentucky. The students that are bestowed with this honor are Jim Salyers, Marc Lackey, Betty Brintlinger, Walter Winner, Bob Reagan, and Arlene Walters. These musicians will have the opportunity to study and play under such competent directors as Prof. Al Wright, Director of Purdue Bands, George Cavender, newly appointed Director of the University of Michigan band, Dr. Clarence Sawhill, Director of the UCLA Band, and Dr. William Revelli, retiring Director of the University of Michigan band.

Each student will have to defend his or her musicianship by a challenge audition for placement in these top bands. Students from seven states will be participating in this three day event.

The following weekend, Feb. 27, the State Solo and Ensemble Contests will be held at Brookhaven High School in Columbus. Sixty-two students from CHS Music Department competing in this grueling contest. Solos, quartets, sextets, and mixed ensembles will be allowed to perform and be judged. The students will then receive a rating of superior, excellent, good, fair, or poor, depending on the individual ensemble.

Folk Group comes into action again on World Day of Prayer, Mar. 5. "Religious Music of Today" will be their theme. The program will feature the younger generation.

That same Friday evening, concert and stage band will perform in the CHS auditorium. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will end at 8:45 p.m. There will be no admission charge for this public performance. We hope you will attend and enjoy the music brought to you by these fine young musicians.

Sixth Grade Uses Library

By DEAN SMALLWOOD
and KIM GRAHAM

An advanced class of sixth graders from Atwater Elementary came to the CHS library Feb. 5.

Mrs. Lovenshimer, librarian helped the sixth graders in the use of the Reader's Guide. The trip was not all in fun, though. Students will be given two grades; one in science and the other in reading. The students are receiving a science grade because they chose a certain science field or a scientist to research.

Kelly Steele was asked what she thought of coming to the high school and using the facilities. She said, "If I hadn't come, I wouldn't have known how to begin."

Tom McGuire is doing his project on the laser beam. He stated that "It is helping me through this paper and should help me when I come here in the coming years."

It is hoped these young people learned well while they were here, because when it comes time for them to attend the high school they will appreciate the knowledge while writing that 3,000 word term paper in the future.

Youths Attend Jr. Symposium

By BETH WEILER and
KATHY OROS

This past weekend, Feb. 12-13 and 14, the eighth Annual Junior Science and Humanities Symposium was held in Columbus. Four CHS students attended, sponsored by various clubs in Circleville.

Martha Pfeleger was one Circleville student taking part in the Symposium under the sponsorship of Rotary. Dave Milburn was indorsed by the Jaycees, Chuck Whitfield by the Academy of Science and Linda Harmon, the CHS Science Club. All are students of the advanced science class; Mr. William Brooke escorted the four as their advisor.

About 350 students from 50 counties in Ohio attended the symposium held at Rhodes Center on 17th Avenue.

During the three day event, the junior scientists took various tours, listened to students speak and enjoyed the company of other students during free periods.

Fourteen students prepared papers and presented them as a speech or lecture. Chuck Whitfield went as an alternate speaker with his project report on a phase of nuclear powered aircraft. Governor John J. Gilligan addressed the students and advisors also.

Martha and Linda attended the tour to the Battelle Laboratories, while Dave and Chuck went to the City National Bank Computer Center. Everyone toured the Center of Science and Industry.

One of the fastest talkers on the school premises is Dave Lingo, 18, who resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lingo, at 235 Cedar Heights Road. Dave has one brother, Steve, who attends Kent State University.

DAVE LINGO

Known for his good sense of humor and quick wit, this journalism student adds much to the Senior Class. Dave is enrolled in the general course of study. He enjoys living, working on his GTO, which he has wrecked three times and visiting Risch's quite often.

A talented artist, Dave plans to major in this area at Kent State University after graduation.

DEBI PREAST

Miss Debi Preast is one of the senior journalism students of the week. She resides at 417 Cedar Heights Road with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Preast Sr., and one sister, Jane Arledge.

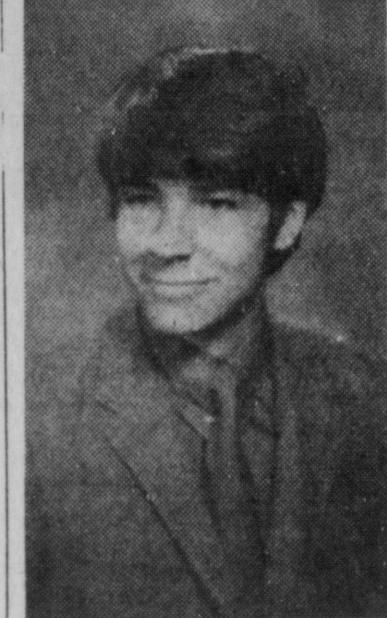

Debi's activities at CHS include Senior SOS and Science Club. She is enrolled in the business course of study.

Her interests include bowling, knitting and cooking. Her dislikes are hypo-ventilating, "grouch pills," and little black bugs.

When asked her opinion of journalism she replied, "It's a unique subject at CHS. Everyone should try it."

Debi has been accepted at Dallas Fashion Merchandising College in Dallas, Texas and plans to attend classes in September. Her desire in life is to become a fashion coordinator.

"Motorcycling and going to Columbus" are the interests of Kevin Crites, senior member of the journalism class. Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Crites, 129 Dunmore Road.

KEVIN CRITES

Kevin is enrolled in the general course of study and his activities included in earlier years are: track, wrestling, Key Club and band.

When Kevin was asked how he feels about journalism, he stated, "I feel that journalism has increased my knowledge of the art of expressing myself and has taught me much about the complicated and rewarding field of writing."

When Kevin was asked what he thought of his senior year, he replied, "This year has included much responsibility and future planning."

After graduation, Kevin plans to travel the country and then attend Ohio University.

Talents Sought For Variety Show

By ROD KASLER

Throughout the school year, a great deal of talent has been displayed at CHS — especially in sports.

The athletes of CHS have brought home an SCOL crown in football, wrestling and at least a share of one in basketball. But this type of ability is displayed every year and is very well publicized.

However, there are talents that certain students have that are not so well known. To bring these abilities out is the main reason for the imminent variety show.

Sponsored by the GAA and Student Council, any student who has worked up an act or skit can join the show. After signing a sheet that has been posted in the corridors, the individual is interviewed by combined committees from the clubs. His act is then recorded and placed on the show schedule.

Skills that have already been recorded are guitar playing, singing and yo-yo throwing. But no matter what the talents, it is sure that the participants will do their best in performing the skits and — above all — enhancing school spirit.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

With Circleville and Teays Valley both battling for league titles Friday night the area has done quite well in the cage wars this season.

A Teays Valley win over Hamilton Township will give them a share of the Metropolitan League crown with West Jefferson. Coach Bob Hoover and his Vikings are to be congratulated, not only for being in the title race but for the manner in which they got there.

This was a team that found everything going against them early in the season and at one point were 1-7 in the record book. Instead of quitting the Blue and Gold lads fought back and compiled eight straight wins in some spine tingling games. We wish them all the best.

When the season opened no one expected the Circleville Tigers to be sporting a 13-4 record and battling for the league championship at this stage of the game.

Credit must go to Coach John Lawhorn and a fine bunch of young men who through hard work and determination have climbed to the top of the heap. We had heard that Circleville was not a basketball town — Have you tried to find a seat at the games this year?

It goes to show that an exciting team and a winner will draw the crowds in any sport. Not only does the team deserve praise but also the loyal fans who have followed the team and cheered them on.

We would like to add a word to the Tigers . . . You have a share of the title . . . Don't be satisfied with that . . . Get hungry and take it all at Miami Trace . . . You can do it and you deserve it.

Don't forget the heart fund games Tuesday night at the Mill St. gym. The ageless wonders of the sheriff's department, police department, fire department and highway patrol will be "huffin and puffin" so in years to come someone else will have the chance to be "huffin and puffin".

Contrary to rumors — They will use benches, not rocking chairs — However, oxygen will be provided.

Our little gem of information — The Boston Celtics hold the NBA one-game scoring record. On Feb. 27, 1959, Tommy Heinsohn scored 43 points and led them to a 173-139 win over the Minneapolis Lakers.

Our "fearless" forecast — Tigers can beat Panthers . . . Teays Valley will rip the Rangers of Hamilton Township . . . Logan Elm will make it "Plain" to the lads from Mt. Sterling . . . Westfall will put Paint Valley in the red . . . Pete Brown will take the crown at the Tucson Open.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Cincinnati Reds Open Camp In Florida; May Still Out

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the year Sparky Anderson says "we'll find out if I can really manage."

Anderson guided the Cincinnati Reds to the National League title last season as a freshman major league manager in baseball.

Anderson finds the 1971 picture a bit of different today as he starts his sophomore season with the Reds at their spring training camp at Tampa, Fla.

For one thing the Reds had only 17 of 37 roster players under contract. Catcher Johnny Bench, the league's most valuable player for 1970, is one of those still unsigned. Others include pitchers Jim Merritt and Wayne Simpson.

Another problem Anderson faces is a replacement for Bobby Tolan, regular center fielder and the NL's leading base stealer last season. Tolan ruptured an Achilles tendon while playing basketball during the off-season and is out at least until June.

Surveying the tuning up job his Big Red Machine needs it's hardly any wonder Anderson commented "I guess we'll find out now if I can really manage."

The Baltimore Orioles, the American League champions who beat Cincinnati in the World Series, opened their camp at Miami Thursday with veteran pitchers Dave McNally and Mike Cuellar still unsigned.

Paul Blair, the Orioles center-fielder, reported a week early to start a switch-hitting experiment. He hits right-handed, but wants to be able to swing from the other side of the plate, too.

Veteran southpaw Bob Veale was missing as the Pittsburgh Pirates opened camp at Bradenton, Fla., but manager Danny Murtaugh said the star pitcher was expected by the weekend.

Elsewhere rookie Doug Griffin, expected to replace Mike Andrews at second base for Boston, checked in early at the Red Sox camp at Winter Haven, Fla.

Infielder Dennis Menke also was an early arrival at the Houston Astros' camp at Cocoa, Fla.

Three pitchers, Jim Colborn, Joe Decker and Larry Gura signed with the Chicago Cubs.

UC Sets Contest With Kent State

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati has scheduled a contest here with Kent State on Sept. 18 to complete its 11-game 1971 football slate.

Arrangement Thursday for the meeting threw more doubt on the possibility of a second college doubleheader being held at Riverfront Stadium here. Last year, Miami played Xavier and Cincinnati went against Dayton.

Money Comes In For Artificial Turf

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University has collected $330,000 of the $500,000 in private funds it needs to install artificial turf in Ohio Stadium and on a practice football field.

Hugh Hindman, associate athletic director, said Thursday it will be a month or more before the rest of the money is raised. He said bids will not be sought until then.

Fordham Stuns Notre Dame; Wins 94-88

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Fordham's Charlie Yelverton had just fouled out after a super performance, the applause of 19,500 rocking rafter-jammed Madison Square Garden.

So what do you do when you lose your wonder player with everything riding on the last seven minutes?

"Charlie had been coming through for us for 19 games, so it was our turn to win one for him," said little Bill Mainor.

And the Rams did—stunning Notre Dame 94-88 Thursday night in an emotion-charged college basketball game.

"We said we'd bring it back for Charlie," Mainor piped over ear-splitting buzzsaws of the Fordham dressing room. "It seems like a smaller team does better under pressure than a large team."

"And everybody did the job for us, although giving away four, five inches in height. We played more with our hearts than with our ability."

More than a few in the animated audience would dispute that last statement, for it was Yelverton's ability that kept the Rams in the game and Mainor's that won it for them.

King Charles scored 28 points, had 11 rebounds, blocked several shots and made many key steals that fired the 18th-ranked Rams to a 75-73 lead over the 14th-ranked Irish with seven minutes left.

Then Yelverton committed "a stupid, reach-in foul" under the basket and had to make that agonizing stroll to the bench, bringing the thunderous crowd to its feet. The applause lasted more than a minute.

Mainor, charged with guarding Notre Dame's high-scoring Austin Carr, scored only four points in the first half. Then, when Yelverton sat down near the end, Mainor punched through 13 of the Rams' last 19 points and wound up with 27.

Mainor, at one point, scored 10 straight, mostly on soft outside jumpers, to power the Rams to a 94-86 lead with 18 seconds remaining.

And although Carr scored a game-high 29 points, Mainor didn't allow the Irish' great guard a point in the last, critical seven minutes.

Carr was unconsolable in the loser's low-key dressing room. "Too many turnovers lost it for us," said the nation's second leading scorer with a 37-point average. "It was just a bad floor game."

Why wasn't he getting the ball at the end?

"Fordham was pressing and it just seemed the flow of the game was being funneled away from me," said Carr, who indicated the loss might cost the Irish, now 14-7, an at-large berth in the NCAA post-season tournament.

"We'll just have to get out and win our next five games," said Carr, his eyes watching the floor.

The Garden clash was the second game of a doubleheader. Temple starved Manhattan with a tough zone in the opener, allowing the Jaspers just one field goal in the first 12 minutes, for a 64-47 victory.

In a relatively light schedule around the nation, Memphis State whipped Bradley 74-70, St. Louis downed North Texas 65-61 and Denver tripped Oklahoma City 64-63.

Memphis State made of 15 free throws in the last 11 minutes and Jim Douglass provided the clincher with a 10-foot corner shot with 3:20 left that gave the Tigers a never-topped 63-56 lead over Bradley.

St. Louis kept within halting distance of Missouri Valley—leading Louisville with the victory over North Texas. The Billikens are within a half-game of the MVC pacers.

Denver's Dave Bustin scored 24 points to lead the Pioneers to their 12th straight victory.

Drug Prevention In Baseball Eyed

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball has taken cognizance of the drug problem and instituted a program to protect the integrity of the game.

"We're not naive about the nature of the problem or the fact that in baseball there has been some use of pills in the amphetamine and barbiturates group," Commissioner Bowie Kuhn said Thursday in announcing a long term Drug Education and Prevention Program for professional baseball.

The commissioner did not mention the names of any players who may have used drugs to stimulate their performance.

Clemons Leading Buckeyes In Bid For Big 10 Crown

By GEORGE STRODE

Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —

Scoring's nice, but Ohio State's Mr. Versatile Jim Clemons prefers basketball playmaking and winning.

His leadership of a sophomore-studded squad and his all-around performances are big reasons for the Buckeyes' bid for a Big Ten crown. Ohio State is 7-1 and in the second spot in the conference behind Michigan with a 7-0 mark.

Big Ten coaches appreciate Clemons' ability. They made him a pre-season unanimous choice as the league's Most Valuable Player. Ohio State Coach Fred Taylor also likes his 6-foot-3 senior captain as the league's No. 1 player.

"They wouldn't let me vote for him. So I voted for Fred Brown of Iowa," Taylor said before sending Ohio State through a drill Thursday for Northwest-ern here Saturday.

"When Ohio State gets in trouble, Clemons tells them exactly what to do out there," said Wisconsin's John Plessner after the Buckeyes whipped his team for a second time.

Clemons prefers to leave the shooting mostly to sophomore hotshots Allan Hornyak and Luke Witte. He still averages 18.6 points to 22.1 for Hornyak and 18.7 for Witte.

"Hornyak's a great shooter and scores a lot of points," the Ohio State captain said. "It's one thing for me to go out and score more points than Hornyak, but it's more fun with a winner."

Despite his time devoted to playmaking, Clemons has passed standouts like John Havlicek and Larry Siegfried on the all-time Ohio State scoring parade.

He has surged into the No. 7 spot with 1,234 points in 65 games as a three-year regular. He averaged 16.6 his sophomore season and 21.6 last year.

Clemons discovered his role as a playmaker when he played for the United States in the University World Games in Italy last summer.

"We had players like Jim McDaniels (Western Kentucky) on the squad. I saw somebody had to do the feeding. It gave me a new dimension," Clemons said.

"He's always had great court awareness," Taylor said, "but he's much more at ease and executes better now. He's played all four positions and even sometimes in the middle."

Clemons, a black from Columbus on an otherwise white Buckeye traveling squad, says he has had no problems.

Knicks Top Rockets In NBA

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The limping New York Knicks feared a 5-foot-9 rookie guard but the little man feared his coach and when the dust had cleared, the world champion Knicks had emerged with a 116-115 victory.

But not before the smallest man to play in the National Basketball Association in a long time gave New York Coach Red Holtzman a scare Thursday night.

Twice trailing, the San Diego Rockets inserted Calvin Murphy in the lineup and the graduate of Niagara sparked a comeback. Once New York led 16-4 but Murphy brought his men back to a 53-51 halftime and 83-80 after three periods.

Then, when the Knicks jumped ahead 110-93 and were rolling, in came Murphy again to bring the home team back. His clutch basket and free throw shooting put the Rockets only a point down with five seconds to play.

Larry Siegfried, acting Rocket coach after Alex Hannum was ejected on technical fouls, called time out and set up the play.

"It was supposed to be a drive to the bucket by Stu Lantz. We knew they'd converge on E," Siegfried, reserve guard and former Boston Celtic, said, referring to Elvin Hayes.

Big John Trapp passed the ball in to Murphy, who wheeled and drove to the right. He was 20 feet from the basket and clear enough for a shot. More than 7,800 fans pleaded with him to drive and shoot; three seconds remained.

Murphy flipped the ball to Hayes on the left side, 20 feet out, and as Elvin whirled, the buzzer sounded. The game was over.

"As a rookie, my job is to follow orders," Murphy explained. "Don't be a hero on your own." He admitted he thought about shooting or driving but "my orders were to pass. I feel I did my job, as I was told . . ."

Murphy wound up with 28 points, giving him 81 in four games this year with New York. He has a 14.9 average against the league.

Hayes, who was 13-of-30 from the field, had 33 points but Walt Frazier of the Knicks had 36 and Dick Barnett added 27 for the winners.

The victory was only the second in the last nine New York games, leaving the Knicks with a 42-25 record atop the NBA's Atlantic Division.

The defeat leaves San Diego 29-38, 12 games back of Los Angeles in the Pacific Division. In the only other pro basketball game played, at Portland, the Los Angeles Lakers romped over the Trail Blazers 136-114. The Lakers broke the game wide open in the second period with 14 straight points and coasted the rest of the way for their fourth victory in a row over Portland.

Gail Goodrich, Keith Erickson and Happy Hairston accounted for 72 points among them for Los Angeles. Goodrich provided most of the scoring impetus with 28 points and Erickson and Hairston chipped in with 22 each.

Rookie Geoff Petrie of the Trail Blazers garnered game-scoring laurels with 36 points.

Tucson Open Course Soggy For Opening

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) —

Officials tried again today to get in the first round of the rain-plagued $110,000 Tucson Golf Tournament while Lee Trevino got a reprieve from five three-putt greens.

Trevino, who has won the last two Tucson titles, sloped in with a 72 Thursday, just moments before a steady drizzle turned into a heavy shower and forced cancellation of the round.

His score, along with all the rest of the early finishers, was washed out. The round was to be replayed completely today.

Another 18-hole round is scheduled Saturday with a 36-hole windup set for Sunday.

"My putting has gone a little sour," commented Trevino, the 1970 leading money winner and Vardon Trophy champion.

"A lot of it was the water. You'd think the water was going to hold up the ball, and, zoom, you're four feet past. So, next time, you play it fast and the water holds you up and you're four feet short."

"But I just wasn't putting very well."

"And, I'm not thinking well. I've got a lot of things on my mind and I'm in a fog out there. I get over a 20-footer and I'm thinking about three-putting instead of thinking about knocking it in the hole."

The Tucson National Golf Club course, a par 72 layout, played even longer than its listed 7,305 yards.

"You just can't believe how long it played," Trevino said. "It was three or four clubs longer than last year."

"That 72 ain't no shabby score. I didn't want to have it rained out."

Longshot Cesar Sanudo, a Mexican native who has yet to win in two years on the pro tour, had the best score among the early finishers, 79, two-under-par.

Jim Colbert, Larry Ziegler and Jack Harden had 71s in the generally high scoring. Bob Murphy, who lost to Trevino in the playoff here last year, shot 75. Homero Blancas had a 76 and National Seniors champ Julius Boros had an 81 washed out.

Never Bow Seeks Win At Hialeah

By ED SCHUELER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

Never Bow, a 6-year-old with yo-yo form, and True North, a 5-year-old with compass-like consistency, will try for victory Saturday in the prestigious Widener Handicap at Hialeah.

And they will have lots of company, with a field of 15 expected for the $100,000-added, 1-mile Widener.

Never Bow, who won the 1970 Widener for Jack Dreyfus, has won two of his last six starts and finished third once. But he also posted a 10th, seventh and fifth.

Ray Fosse Signs Contract With Indians

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) —

Regular Cleveland Indians catcher Ray Fosse, considered a possible holdout this year to back salary demands, signed his 1971 contract Thursday and will be in camp here today when workouts begin for pitchers and catchers.

Fosse, who batted .307, hit 18 homers and drove home 62 runs for the Indians last year, had sought a contract for $35,000, but reportedly settled for $28,000. The contract is about $10,000 over his final salary last year in which he was given a raise after the season began.

Jim Colbert, Larry Ziegler and Jack Harden had 71s in the generally high scoring. Bob Murphy, who lost to Trevino in the playoff here last year, shot 75. Homero Blancas had a 76 and National Seniors champ Julius Boros had an 81 washed out.

Wooster Lays Record On Line Saturday

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wooster College's basketball team apparently has whipped an off-court problem. Now the Scots must prove themselves on the court.

Wooster, 22-1 for the best Ohio college record this season, was given the green light by the NCAA Thursday to be eligible for its post-season tournament.

"As far as the NCAA is concerned, the school has done nothing wrong," said NCAA Administrator Gene Duffy from Kansas City, Mo., headquarters.

The Ohio Conference, however, has Wooster ineligible for its tournament because the Scots conducted a summer basketball camp without the league's approval.

Wooster likely can whip two items at once with a home victory over Capital Saturday night. The Scots would win the Ohio Conference regular season title with a 12-0 record and move closer to an NCAA berth. A Capital triumph would give the Crusaders a title share with Wooster at 11-1.

If host Kent State beats Western Michigan, Miami would back into the Mid-American crown. The Redskins are involved in a non-leaguer at home with Marshall. Bowling Green is at Toledo in the other MAC contest.

Ohio State, 7-1 to leading Michigan's 7-0 in the Big Ten, awaits Northwestern in a key conference struggle. Buckeye captain Jim Clemons returned to practice Thursday after spraining an ankle at Wisconsin.

"Northwestern scores an awful lot of points. They are a very active team that has had six different players with a high of 20 or more points this season," said Ohio State Coach Fred Taylor.

The Wildcats scoring aces are 6-foot-4 Ron Shoger with 19.3 points, 6-5 Barry Moran with 18.0 and 6-1 Mark Sibley with 14.8. Allen Hornyak's 22.1-point average leads Ohio State, followed by Luke Witte's 18.7 and Clemons' 18.6.

In other top games Saturday, DePaul is at Dayton, Xavier at Canisius, Cincinnati at George Washington, Ohio University at Ball State and Ashland at Steubenville.

Other Ohio Conference games send Baldwin-Wallace to Muskingum, Kenyon to Hiram, Marietta to Wittenberg, Heidelberg to Mount Union and Oberlin to Ohio Wesleyan.

Findlay already owns the Mid-Ohio crown and seeks its ninth triumph in 10 losses at Malone to conclude its league schedule.

Bluffton is at Cedarville and Wilmington at Defiance in the M-O contests.

Elsewhere, Chicago is at Denison, Waterloo, Ont., at Otterbein, Wayne State at Ohio Northern, Tennessee State at Central State, Alliance, Pa., at Youngstown State, Urbana at Ohio Dominican, Wright State at Transylvania, Washington and Jefferson at Western Reserve and Case Tech at Allegheny.

SERTOMA — The guest speaker at Wednesday's noon luncheon meeting of the Circleville Sertoma Club was Clyde Cook (right) who recently spent three weeks on a Missionary Tour in Columbia. Cook described the work he assisted in — building a church. In addition he showed numerous slides dealing with both the people of Columbia, and how they lived. Dr. H. H. Shuttleworth who last summer was on a similar tour of Africa, compares notes with Cook.

Heart Fund Benefit Game Preparations Completed

Preparations for the benefit basketball game for the Heart Fund have reached a peak; everything is "all go" for the 7 p.m. Tuesday event.

Mike Brown, Heart Fund President for Pickaway County, has arranged for four referees and a stand-by to officiate at the double bill.

Donating their time and energy to the local Heart Fund drive, Jerry Collins, and Bill Thompson, will have the tough assignment of keeping the two power house teams of the Sheriff's Department and Highway Patrol from mangling each other in their efforts to win the county title.

In the match between city police and firemen, Fred "Speeder" Davis and Steve Brudzinski will lay down the laws. Several players have brought up incidents from deep in their memories when Brudzinski tossed them off other floors for violations in their high school games. How many years ago is a question better left unasked.

STILL there can be speculation whether history can repeat itself when young, vigorous athletes begin to fade with the years.

Kelly Boyer, former CHS reserve basketball coach, will serve as stand-by official at the games.

Since programs will not be available, the teams have released some identifying information since players will be out of regular uniform and in shorts and jerseys.

City firemen will carry the traditional red into battle on their costumes. Lt. Brown has threatened to outfit all his men in their helmets and axes, but a question was raised whether Chief Wolfe would approve or not.

Gold is the color of the police patrol. Word has leaked out that they are having trouble with their recruits. Sore muscles have put them on the injury list?

It will look like Christmas when the "Over-the-Hill" deputies meet the Highway Patrol. Decked out in Ohio National Guard green, "Dwight's Delights" have promised to put up a fight against their scarlet garbed foes. For the red coats, keep an eye out for Number 22.

If you have not picked up tickets for the game yet, contact any player. Tickets will be available at the door prior to the game which will begin 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Mill St. gymnasium.

Pleads Guilty In 3 Deaths

CINCINNATI (AP) — A presentence investigation will be conducted in the case of a youth who pleaded guilty Thursday to three counts of first-degree vehicular homicide.

Ralph Hardy, 18, of Cincinnati appeared in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court. His bond was continued at $1,000.

He is charged in the deaths last August of John Mutchler, 24, of suburban Forest Park; his 7-month-old son, John Robert; and Frederick Andrews, 15, of Cincinnati.

Police said that Hardy's car, in which Andrews was a passenger, struck Mutchler's auto at a high rate of speed on a street here.

Insurance Firm Faces Liquidation

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Superior Court Judge Charles Applegate ordered Thursday liquidation of all assets of United Bonding Insurance Co., which operates in 47 states, including Ohio.

The order came after William Russell, assistant chief examiner for the Indiana Insurance Department, reported a recent audit showed United had assets of $2,848,000 and liabilities of $4,144,000.

He said that without recapitalization he considered further transactions by the company hazardous.

Earlier this week Indiana Atty. Gen. Theodore L. Sendak obtained a court order against continued company operations in Indiana.

In Ohio, the Department of Insurance said United did $163,000 worth of business in the state during 1969. Some 77 per cent, or about $127,000, was in bail bonds.

Herbert O. Thieringer, the department's chief examiner, said the $127,000 represents the amount actually collected in premiums by the company. Bonding firms generally charge 10 per cent of the amount posted.

Thieringer said some court clerks in Ohio have reported they had forfeited bonds from the company which were overdue.

It was not established whether additional action against the company will be required in Ohio.

PROMOTED — Lawrence Neff, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, has been promoted to shift supervisor at Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.'s Picway Generating station. Neff served in the U. S. Army from 1942 to 1944, including 17 months in Africa and Italy. He started with Columbus and Southern in 1945 as a coal larry operator.

Claim Trudeau Foul-Mouthed

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau has been accused by opposition legislators for the second time of mouthing obscenities which would have shocked lip readers.

The latest incident occurred Thursday during a House of Commons debate in which Trudeau was jeered by Conservative party members.

Trudeau insisted he only moved his lips and hands "in a gesture of derision."

Armed Services Ease Rules Against Mothers In Uniform

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The armed services, facing charges of sex discrimination, are easing long-standing rules barring women from motherhood while in uniform.

Each of the services is reviewing separately personnel policies, maintaining a double standard for the sexes. Some changes have been made already while others are expected in the coming weeks.

The Army, for example, will make exceptions now and induct women who are married or have custody of a child under 18.

"It's like haircuts for the men," said an Army official, referring to new rules permitting men to wear longer hair. "It's just keeping in trim with the times."

The Navy recently suspended its policy requiring the discharge of women who become pregnant while on active duty. Until a new policy is drawn up, each case will be considered individually.

In reversing its policies, the Air Force will allow WAF officers and enlisted women to adopt children, be stepmothers or have custody of a child under 18. But pregnancy still brings automatic dismissal.

This regulation is being challenged by an Air Force nurse, Capt. Susan Struck, who had a baby while on active duty and is appealing an attempt to discharge her.

In her federal court suit, Capt. Struck contends her constitutional rights are being violated.

A San Diego woman who was discharged from the Marine Corps when she married and became a stepmother to two teenagers has filed suit asking she be restored to active duty.

Gail Waugh Downen contends a Marine Corps regulation revoking the commission of any woman officer who becomes a stepmother of a child under 18 discriminates against her solely on the basis of sex. No such regulation exists against male officers, Mrs. Downen's suit said.

The review of Army personnel policy was prompted by John G. Kester, deputy assistant Army secretary, who called for changes in the "objectionable discriminatory standards for service between male and female personnel."

But even with the new regulations, the Army still is not opening the door to wholesale enlistment of all previously unacceptable women. These include those who were once married or had a pregnancy while unmarried. The changes permit waivers in individual cases.
